

Sheltering tree

After returning from a Canadian tour in August, Chris Ellis and Celeste Lovick are performing in venues across the UK. They have teamed up with fretless bass player, Dave Sturt for a special evening of music at the Queen's Head in Belper. This is a rare opportunity to see this exciting collaboration between these three superb musicians, performing original songs with voices, acoustic guitars and fretless bass.

Past performances together have included the National Theatre and many festivals around the UK.

"a magnetic performance - well-crafted with great sincerity"
David Gallagher, National Theatre

"Their set of harmony-laden songs was delightful."
Richard Penguin, Triangle Magazine

"Two fine songwriters... what a treat their music offers."
Artspring, Canada

To find out more information about Chris Ellis and Celeste Lovick, visit their website at www.shelteringtree.co.uk.

